

Gerhard Rein, Universität Bayreuth

Title: Singularity formation in gravitational collapse

I will discuss some quite old and some more recent results on the formation of singularities via the gravitational collapse of a self-gravitating matter distribution. I will consider both the Newtonian and the general relativistic set-up, and matter will be described as either a collisionless gas or as "dust".